

The 218th joint meeting of Human Investigation Committee and Ethics Committee for Genome Research (Expedited review)

Date: February 10, 2016 (Wednesday), 13:15 - 14:10

Place: C-211 (Hiroshima), 4th fl. meeting room (Nagasaki) (teleconference)

< Ethical review of genetic and epidemiological research >

	Department	Research project title	Review results	Summary
1	Molecular Biosciences	Revision made to RP4-04 "Relationship between Cancer Development and Genetic Polymorphisms among A-bomb Survivors, Focusing on Immune-related Genes"	Approved	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ The revised RP will be used if study subjects want to see the RP of this study. ◆ The revision will be described in the RERF Annual Report. ◆ The section, "V. Informed consent, Type 4: For provision of existing specimens or information to other research institutions" in the Application for Ethical Review: The answer "2) Consent has been obtained based on previously acquired informed consent at RERF, and contents of the consent will be conveyed to the recipient institution" must also be chosen for the question "2. How will consent be obtained for provision of the relevant specimens or information and their use for this study?" in addition to the answer "3) Informed consent was not/will not be obtained."

*The above Research Protocol was approved after confirmation that the relevant modifications were made properly.