

LIST OF SEMINAR AND COLLOQUIA PRESENTED AT RERF (via Online)
February 2021 – January 2022

SEMINAR

Yuko Kadowaki, Teaching Assistant, Biostatistics Center, Kurume University: “Evaluation of the lifetime brain/central nervous system cancer risk associated with childhood head CT scanning in Japan” 22 February 2021

RERF COLLOQUIA

The 124th RERF Colloquium

5 March 2021

Kotaro Ozasa, Chief, Department of Epidemiology, Hiromi Sugiyama, Senior Scientist, Department of Epidemiology, “Recent changes in regulations and availability regarding cancer incidence information”

The 125th RERF Colloquium

16 April 2021

Ayumi Hida, Chief, Department of Clinical Studies, Nagasaki, “Cataract study among AHS participants”

The 126th RERF Colloquium

21 May 2021

Michiko Yamada, Chief, Division of Radiology, Department of Clinical Studies, Hiroshima, “Cognitive function study in the Adult Health Study”

The 127th RERF Colloquium

15 October 2021

Yukiko Matsuda, Fixed-term Scientist, Department of Molecular Biosciences, “Frequencies and characteristics of somatic mutations in mouse hematopoietic stem cells induced by X-irradiation”

The 128th RERF Colloquium

19 November 2021

Ritsu Sakata, Assistant Department Chief, Department of Epidemiology, “Study series following Report 15”

The 129th RERF Colloquium

17 December 2021

Kismet Cordova, MPH Research Scientist, Department of Statistics, “A comprehensive structural equation modeling approach to assessing the magnitude of error in DS02 doses using biodosimetry data”

The 130th RERF Colloquium

21 January 2022

Yoshimi Tatsukawa, Assistant Department Chief, Department of Clinical Studies, Hiroshima, “Incidence of diabetes in the Atomic Bomb Survivors”